

Communication Release Form

Our office is now utilizing secure text messaging and email to communicate clinical information to our patients due to poor telephone communication and the need for a more accurate and responsive mode of communication. We are now shifting our practice to an email and texting format. Texting can offer patients numerous advantages for clinical care due to its fast and efficient means of sending information. Our doctors prescribes medications electronically which require an updated email address.

Text message examples:

- Appointment reminders
- Status of your glasses/lenses order
- Status of your contact lens order
- Emergencies

The Eye Center at Jackson always protects your privacy. We will not share your personal information with anyone for any reason.
